Active/dormant holder status and recent holder growth or loss require historical snapshots compared over time, which aren't available from a single point-in-time holder query (see roadmap).

Data Limitations

- Wallet ownership is not necessarily known — one person may control multiple wallets, or multiple people may share one wallet.
- Token and NFT prices can be volatile; USD figures reflect a single point in time.
- Heuristic and derived metrics (e.g. token holdings from transfer history) can differ slightly from a live on-chain read and are labeled ESTIMATED where this applies.
- This report reflects data available at generation time and does not update automatically.
- Active/dormant holder status and recent holder growth or loss require historical snapshots compared over time, which aren't available from a single point-in-time holder query (see roadmap).

Methodology & Data Sources

This report is generated from publicly available blockchain data. Heuristic classifications and derived metrics are pattern-based observations, not definitive claims, and are labeled with their confidence level throughout. No private keys, seed phrases, or non-public data were accessed to produce this report.
